RESUME OF ROBERT LOUIS ARMSTEAD

Robert L. Armstead was born in Blair, Nebraska, in 1936. He attended the University of Rochester at Rochester, New York, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in physics in June, 1958.

Graduate study followed at the University of California at Berkeley, where he completed his Ph.D. work in September, 1964. His research, in the field of theoretical atomic scattering, was under the direction of Professor Charles L. Schwartz. The Ph.D. was awarded in January, 1965.

In October, 1964, he joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, where he is teaching in the Department of Physics and Chemistry.

His research interests include atomic scattering and, more recently, the theory of electromagnetic propagation through the atmosphere.

He is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa, and the American Physical Society.
